Ancestry.com Message Boards

The screenshot shows the Ancestry.com website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Ancestry logo and links for Trees, Search, DNA, Help, and Extras. A green button for 'Hire an Expert' is visible on the right. Below the navigation bar, the main header reads 'Welcome to the Ancestry Community' and 'Collaborate in our online family history community.' A dropdown menu is open over the 'Community' link, listing 'Support Center', 'Community', 'Message Boards' (highlighted with a red box), 'Hire an Expert', and 'Site Status'. The main content area is divided into two columns: 'Collaborate' and 'Contribute'. The 'Collaborate' section includes links for 'Public Member Trees', 'Member Directory', 'Member Profile', and 'Message Boards' (highlighted with a red box). The 'Contribute' section includes links for 'Find A Grave' and 'Success Story'.

How do you find the groups?

The image shows a Facebook search interface. At the top, the Facebook logo is on the left, and a search bar contains the text "irish genealogy groups". Below the search bar, a vertical navigation menu on the left includes "Search Facebook", "Ben Kempner", "Friends", "Groups" (highlighted with a red box), "Feeds (Most Recent)", "Marketplace", and "Watch". The main content area displays a grid of search results for various Irish genealogy groups. Each result includes a profile picture, the group name, member count, post frequency, and a brief description. A red box highlights the search bar, and another red box highlights the "Groups" menu item.

SOLVED - THANK YOU! - Is anyone able to translate this death register of my 3x g-grandmother. Thank you!

1 Find a translation group that you want to try

German Genealogy Translations
Private group

2 Post a question and insert the document that you want translated – I wanted a translation of the death notice for my 3x great-grandmother.

 Ingrid K B Hersman Widow Emilie Wollenberg nee Herrmann, retired, age 71 of mosaic religion born in Posen. Died 14 June 1893 5 a.m. in Berlin and gives address. The person reporting this was the portier- Friedrich Schütze Husband Louis Wollenberg, was Lederhändler- leather sales. Last residing in Posen. She was the daughter of Kaufmann- business man Simon Herrmann whose wife was Therese nee Mamroth. Both deceased. ...no where does it give a town of birth just the region of Posen.

3 Someone will respond with a translation – in the case above, within 5 hours!

Jewish DNA for Genetic Genealogy and Family Research

This is from the 23andMe Chromosome Browser. My wife's father is 100% Jewish and her mother is 100% Christian. The blue match (15 cM), Matt is 99.7% Jewish and the green match (also 15 cM), Rachel is 99.6% Jewish. I know Rachel and Matt are both related to my wife on her father's side, but can I assume that Rachel and Matt are also related to each other? And that there's a common ancestor between the 3 of them?

I'm confused because I know each chromosome is really a pair - one from Mom and one from Dad. I think the fact that I see overlapping chromosomes in MyHeritage that are not designated as Triangulated is throwing me off. (Not seeing Matt & Rachel in MyHeritage, just a general comment).

What can I conclude for sure about the attached CB image?

Someone responded with step-by-step instructions on how to triangulate DNA matches!

Jennifer Mendelsohn Admin

what you're seeing is that they both match your wife there, but you don't know if they both match each other there. You'd have to compare them to each other to see.

Chromosome Browsers ("CB"):

You have two copies of every chromosome: one from Mom and one from Dad. CBs must display this as a single chromosome. Here is my copy of chromosome 1 compared to two of my aunts.

But one aunt is maternal (orange) and the other aunt is paternal (blue) so they do NOT share a single piece of DNA as common. It would look like this if CBs were able to display between maternal and paternal relationships.

Maternal Aunt (your chromosome from Mom)

Paternal Aunt (your chromosome from Dad)

Good afternoon, Mr. Kempner,

Hope you're doing well.

So, here's the thing.

It's not 22 chromosomes.

It's really 44 chromosomes.

What you're showing in your screen shot, is how 2 matches match to the tester.

Blue could be matching on one parent's Chromosome 10, and Green could be matching on the other parent's Chromosome 10.

Everyone has a separate set of Chromosome 1 - Chromosome 22 from their mother, and everyone also has another separate set of Chromosome 1 - Chromosome 22 from their father.

This means that there are two Chromosome 10s; a Chromosome 10 from the mother, and another Chromosome 10 from the father.

Chromosome browsers only show one set of chromosomes, because matching algorithms don't know if a match is matching on the mother's chromosome, or the father's chromosome.

All it knows, is that there's a match on that particular chromosome.

What you need to do, is not include the tester, and separately compare Blue to Green.

This is called Triangulation.

When you go into the chromosome browser, press on the tester's name when it automatically pops up.

Their name will disappear, leaving a blank chromosome browser to compare matches to each other.

Type Blue's name in the search bar, and select them.

Everyone else you choose, will now be compared to Blue, instead of being compared to the tester.

You can press on the tester's name to put them back into the group.

Then type Green's name in the search bar, and select them.

Then press the blue Compare button.

This allows you to see how a match not only matches to the tester, it also shows how they compare to other people, all at the same time.

If Blue does not match Green, you're most likely looking at matches on both sides at the same time.

If Blue also matches Green in the same area on the same Chromosome, then all 3 have the same common ancestor.

Hi, Andrea et. al.:

I'm particularly looking for information on the family of Friederich and Amalia Gunther Lehr of Rotenburg an der Fulda. Their daughter Dorothea "Dora" Lehr (1846-1925; who immigrated to Baltimore and married William John Pundt [1841-1910], also of Prussian Jewish descent and an immigrant to Baltimore) was the paternal grandmother of John Carroll Pundt [1 December 1903-17 July 1944], my mother's maternal grandfather. Came across this fascinating article which may be relevant to some here:

Jewish Surnames Adopted in Various Regions of the Russian Empire - Avotaynu Online

This article is adapted from a lecture delivered at the IAJG Conference in Chicago, August 18, 2008 —Ed. Generally speaking, it is relatively easy to distinguish Sephardic surnames from Ashkenazic

Artificial Intelligence for Genealogy

Artificial Intelligence

Q: What is artificial intelligence (AI)?

A: Computer systems able to perform tasks normally requiring human intelligence.

AI Milestones

- 1956: John McCarthy coins the term “artificial intelligence”.
- 1980s Neural networks developed - algorithm to enable computer to train itself”.
- 1997 IBM’s Deep Blue beats world chess champion Garry Kasparov in a chess match.
- 2011 IBM Watson beats champions Ken Jennings and Brad Rutter at Jeopardy.
- 2023 Rise in large language models (LLMs) such as Chat GPT, creates enormous change in performance of AI.

There are a different AI tools for different purposes

To generate images

To generate music

To generate voices (text to speech)

To generate software

To generate text (i.e. ChatGPT)

What is ChatGPT?

It's a Large Language Model (LLM) developed by OpenAI, a San Francisco-based AI company

There are many other AI companies, but we're going to focus on ChatGPT

What is a Large Language Model?

- An algorithm that attempts to predict the most probable string of words based on training
- It's a network of computers that have been trained with lots of data and provides you with words as outputs in response to your prompt or question.

“Most probable” is not...

...Most factually correct – it doesn't care about being factually correct!

...Most grammatically correct – it doesn't care about grammar!

What is ChatGPT?

BE Please explain ChatGPT in one paragraph and in easy-to-understand terms.

 ChatGPT is an advanced computer program designed to understand and respond to human language. It uses a combination of machine learning algorithms and vast amounts of text data to generate coherent and contextually relevant responses to user inputs. Think of it as a really smart virtual assistant that can have conversations with you, answer questions, provide information, and even engage in creative tasks like writing stories or generating ideas. It's like having a knowledgeable and friendly AI companion that can help you with a wide range of topics and tasks.

Prompt (or Query) Examples

Prompt #1 – How to cite genealogical resources – initial prompt

Act as a genealogist. Please create a document on the best practice for citing various genealogical sources (i.e. birth, marriage, death, military and any other major source document).

 Title: Best Practices for Citing Various Genealogical Sources

Introduction:
Citing sources is a fundamental aspect of genealogical research that ensures accuracy, transparency, and credibility in your family history work. A proper citation not only acknowledges the origin of information but also allows others to verify and reproduce your findings. This document provides a comprehensive guide on citing various genealogical sources, including birth, marriage, death, military, and other major source documents.

I. General Principles of Citation:

1. Consistency: Maintain consistent citation style throughout your research to enhance clarity and facilitate understanding.

Prompt #1 – Citing sources – revised prompt

Please include specific examples for each item. Just provide guidance on citing each resource. I don't need the introduction or conclusion.

Certainly! Here are specific examples and guidance on citing various genealogical sources:

I. Birth Records:
Example Format: Name of the person, "Birth Record," [Record Type], Name of Registering Authority, Date of Registration, Repository Name, Location of Repository, Digital Identifier (if applicable).
Example: John Smith, "Birth Record," Certificate of Birth, City of New York, New York City Department of Health, Bureau of Vital Statistics, 15th January 1980, New York City Municipal Archives, New York, USA.
Guidance:

- Include the full name of the individual as it appears on the birth record.
- Specify the type of record, such as a "Certificate of Birth" or other relevant title.
- Provide the name of the registering authority or issuing agency.

IV. Military Records:
Example Format: Full Name of the Individual, "Military Record," [Record Type], Name of Military Branch, Rank, Unit or Regiment, Dates of Service, Repository Name, Location of Repository, Digital Identifier (if applicable).
Example: William Johnson, "Military Record," Service File, United States Army, Private, 101st Airborne Division, 1943-1946, National Personnel Records Center, St. Louis, Missouri, USA.
Guidance:

- Include the full name of the individual as it appears on the military record.
- Specify the type of record, such as a "Service File" or other relevant title.
- Provide the name of the military branch or service.
- Include the rank and the unit or regiment in which the individual served.
- Specify the dates of service, if available.

Prompt #2 - Draft a note to a 2nd cousin asking them to take a DNA test – initial query

Act as a genealogist and create an email asking a 2nd cousin to take a genetic genealogy test.

Subject: Exploring Our Family History: Join Me in Discovering Our Genetic Heritage

Dear [Second Cousin's Name],

I hope this email finds you in good health and high spirits. My name is [Your Name], and we are connected through our shared family lineage. Over the years, I have developed a deep interest in genealogy, uncovering the fascinating stories and connections that make up our family's history. Today, I reach out to you with an exciting opportunity to join me on this journey of discovery.

As you may know, genetic genealogy has emerged as a powerful tool for unraveling the mysteries of our ancestry. By taking a simple and painless DNA test, we can gain valuable insights into our genetic heritage and connect with relatives we never knew existed. It's like unlocking a treasure trove of knowledge about our past.

I recently took a genetic genealogy test through [name of the testing company], and the results have been truly eye-opening. The information provided not only helped me understand my ethnic origins but also enabled me to connect with distant relatives who share our bloodline. The connections I made were incredibly heartwarming and gave me a deeper sense of belonging to something larger than myself.

With this in mind, I invite you to embark on this exciting adventure together. By taking the genetic genealogy test, we can further expand our understanding of our shared ancestry

Prompt #3 - Write a story about an ancestor using the profile facts from Ancestry.com

The screenshot shows the Ancestry.com profile for Hermann Kempner. At the top, there is a portrait of a man with a mustache. Below the name, it lists his birth and death details: BIRTH 28 SEPT 1867 • Posen, Wielkopolskie, Poland and DEATH 17 OCT 1954 • Denver, Denver, Colorado, USA. He is identified as the paternal grandfather of the user. The page has tabs for LifeStory, Facts, Gallery, and Hints. The Facts tab is active, showing a vertical timeline of events: Birth (1867), Death of father Isidor Kempner (1887), Occupation (1900), Death of sister Elise Kempner (1909), and Death of mother Johanna Henschel (1911). A 'Possible marriage records' section is highlighted with a dashed box and a 'Search' button. On the right, there are 'Sources' listed, including Africa, Asia and Europe, Passenger Lists of Displaced Persons, 1946-1971; Ancestry Family Trees; German Phone Directories, 1915-1981; Germany and Surrounding Areas, Address Books, 1815-1974; and JewishGen Online Worldwide Burial Registry (JOWBR).

1. Copy all the Facts from the person's profile.
2. Create a prompt and paste in the Facts from Ancestry.

BE Please create a story about the life of my grandfather, Hermann Kempner in the first person. Use a formal and non-emotional tone and a narrative style. Here are the facts: Birth 28 Sept 1867 • Posen, Wielkopolskie, Poland 6 sources 1887

Prompt #4 - Create a request for birth records to send to a Polish Archive

BE

Act as a genealogist. Please create a formal email with a professional tone to send to a Polish Archive requesting assistance in obtaining a birth certificate for my great-grandfather, Isidor Kempner, born in Posen (now Poznan) in 1820. Prompt #5 – Find out historical events occurring in the lifetime of your ancestor that could have affected his/her life.

My initial query....

BE

My great-grandfather, Isidor Kempner, was Jewish and was born in Kempen in the Posen oblast in Prussia in 1820. He lived until 1887. What are 10 historical events that occurred in his lifetime that would have impacted his life.

...was interesting, but it included events that probably didn't affect my ggf – i.e., California Gold Rush

Certainly! Here are ten historical events that occurred during the lifetime of Isidor Kempner (1820-1887) that would have had an impact on his life:

1. Congress of Vienna (1814-1815): The Congress of Vienna reshaped the political map of Europe after the Napoleonic Wars and influenced the geopolitical situation in Prussia, where Isidor Kempner was born.
2. Revolutions of 1848: A wave of revolutions swept across Europe in 1848, including the German states. These uprisings demanded political reforms and had an impact on the social and political climate of the time.
3. California Gold Rush (1848-1855): The discovery of gold in California in 1848 attracted a massive influx of people seeking fortune, including many immigrants. This event may have affected trade and migration patterns.
4. Crimean War (1853-1856): The Crimean War was a conflict between Russia and an alliance

Prompt #5 – Find out historical events occurring in the lifetime of your ancestor that could have affected his/her life.

I refined my prompt...

Please limit those historical events to those that took place in the Posen area.

...and the response was more pertinent to my ancestor's life in Posen, Prussia

Apologies for the oversight. Here are ten historical events that occurred in or around the Posen area during the lifetime of Isidor Kempner (1820-1887):

1. Congress of Vienna (1814-1815): The Congress of Vienna reshaped the political map of Europe after the Napoleonic Wars, including the Posen area, which was part of Prussia at the time.
2. November Uprising (1830-1831): The November Uprising was a Polish insurrection against Russian rule. Although it primarily took place in Warsaw and other parts of Poland, its effects were felt throughout the Polish territories, including Posen.
3. Revolutions of 1848: The revolutions of 1848 reached the Posen area, with protests and demands for political reforms and national aspirations. While these events were eventually suppressed, they highlighted the growing tensions within the region.
4. German Customs Union (1834-1853): The German Customs Union, known as the Zollverein, was a coalition of German states that established a free trade zone. Its formation had economic implications for the region, including Posen.
5. Unification of Germany (1866-1871): The unification of Germany, led by Prussia, resulted in the creation of the German Empire. The Posen area became part of this newly unified Germany, impacting its political and administrative structures.
6. Kulturkampf (1871-1887): The Kulturkampf was a period of conflict between the German government and the Catholic Church. It involved the imposition of various anti-Catholic policies, including in the Posen area, where the Catholic Church held significant influence.
7. Industrialization and Urbanization: The 19th century witnessed the industrialization and urbanization of the Posen area, with the growth of factories, railways, and urban centers. These changes would have influenced the social and economic fabric of the region.
8. Posen Conference (1848): The Posen Conference was a gathering of Polish activists held in Posen to discuss political demands and strategies during the revolutions of 1848. It played a role in shaping the Polish national movement.
9. Germanization Policies: During Isidor Kempner's lifetime, the German government implemented Germanization policies in the Posen area, aimed at suppressing Polish culture and language. These policies affected the local Polish population and their way of life.
10. Bismarck's Policies: Otto von Bismarck, the German Chancellor, implemented various policies during his tenure that had implications for the Posen area. This included his policies on social welfare, diplomacy, and the relationship between the German state and minority populations.
